

SAY YOUNG NEW KILLED BROTHER

Investigator Gets Word
That Accused Man Caused Death.

ALSO SON OF SENATOR

Information Is That Stuart
New Was Pushed Off
Porch Accidentally.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 13.—Information that records in Indianapolis disclose that Harry S. New, who faces trial here next Tuesday for the slaying of Freda Lesser, was blamed for the death of his younger brother, Stuart New, was received by District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine today. According to Woolwine's information, Stuart New died at the age of 2 years as the result of injuries received in a fall from a porch of his home.

One witness at the inquest in the case, the information said, testified that Harry New, then 6 years old, intentionally pushed his small brother from the porch, the fall causing the fatal injuries.

The verdict of the coroner's inquest was that Stuart New died as a result of the fall, but did not of any fault of Harry New, who was held responsible.

Stuart New is alleged to also have been a son of United States Senator Harry S. New of Indianapolis. Mrs. Julia M. Berger, mother of Harry New, was the mother of Stuart also, it is claimed.

Coincident with this startling disclosure, District Attorney Woolwine made two important announcements concerning the New case.

The first was that the district attorney will demand that New pay the death penalty for the murder of the lesser girl.

The second was that experts called by the prosecution to examine New as to his mental condition had reported that while New was "dull" he cannot be called insane.

HE TIRES OF FIGHTING

Special to The World.
MUSKOGEE, Dec. 13.—After successfully defending himself in nearly every court in the land for years against the efforts of his brother, Clarence W. Turner, and his sister, Mrs. Effie T. Kirkwood, to remove him as administrator of the estate of their mother, Mrs. Julia A. Turner, who died two years ago, Fred E. Turner has tendered his conditional resignation to County Judge Enloe Verner.

The estate is valued at between $500,000 and $1,000,000. It includes a half block of business property on the south side of Broadway between Second and Third streets in the heart of Muskogee, and considerable Tulsa property. Fred Turner is himself rated almost a millionaire.

Announcement of the conditional resignation is conditioned upon the acceptance of the county court's opinion, without appeal or approval, of the judgment by the appellate court which is contained in the court decision handed Thursday, covering objections of the brother and sister to Fred Turner's report and accounting as administrator and two petitions for the sale of real and personal property of the estate. The resignation has been accepted. The brother and sister allege that Fred Turner, in violation of the law, has contracted to purchase 999 shares of old Homestead company stock which they value at $220,000. Action on the objections of the brother and sister are held in abeyance by the court on the grounds that the matter should be threshed out in a court of equity. The court states that he will endeavor to appoint a good responsible and disinterested man to succeed Mr. Turner and to bring suit against him in a court of equity. The court states its opinion that he will instruct the new administrator to retain as counsel Preston C. West of Tulsa and John D. Debois. The Turner family is one of the pioneers of Indian territory. In the early days of Muskogee, C. W. Turner, one of the contesting heirs, conducted the biggest hardware store in Indian territory in Muskogee.
